DULLES REJECTS MOLOTOV PEACE PLAN

About Town

And Country
By TIMOTHEUS T.

ZIP ZAP: Timmo just got a release from S. Richard Stern Associates, 5 East 47th Street, New York, N. Y., for release in editions of Tuesday, Feb. 2, 1954, which is today.

Ordinarily such releases hit the waste basket quick but not this one, because it reveals that the zip has been taken out of zipper.

"What's zap?" you query.

The Stern Associates release defines zip as what happens to the human mind when the zipper jams.

Talon (send contribution to Timotheus T., Box 383) says it has invented a new jam-free zipper.

"Even a child will be able to free himself from a jammed zipper," the publicity story says, which means that persons of the Timmo mentality can work it loose too.

"The trick," it continues, "is all in the tiny push-button which works by just flipping the tab and pressing it down gently on the button. (Ah, these days of push-button control). The slider then rocks back on the chain, springs the jaws and the fabric is released at once."

Timmo'll never, never forget that real cold day about six years ago. I knew I was going to be out for quite a while, so I put on long-handled fleece-lined drawers, a pair of heavy pants, a woolen shirt, a slipover sweater, a coat sweater, then a jacket that zipped up.

I was very comfortable outside but when I got home the house was hot. I started to unzip my jacket zipper and it went down about three inches and stuck. I couldn't budge it. I had so many clothes on I could scarcely touch it, much less manipulate it.

I worked on it the best I could. My wife worked on it. It wouldn't move an inch and I kept getting hotter and hotter. My blood pressure which rose because of getting into such a jam didn't help cool me off, either, and I had to make one trip outside to absorb a little sub-freezing temperature before I could stand any more zipper working.

I had so many clothes on underneath that I couldn't force it over my head. It was stuck. It was stuck for more than an hour. Finally got it off. Don't remember just how. Only remember how hot it got.

That's one of my experiences with a jammed zipper. I have had more but do not feel that I should go into any others right here.

"The company believes that the new jam-free mechanism is the long-awaited answer to the needs of Mr. and Mrs. America," the news release says. Believe they have something there.

(Note from Timmo: If any of the home Bureau staffs styling hems and zippers desire to incorporate any of the above information into their programs, they are free to do so.)

PARTING SHOT: Give some people an inch and they want to become a ruler.

Selective Service Office is Open Five Days a Week

The Selective Service office on the seventh floor of the Harrisburg National Bank building is open five days a week, being closed Saturdays, it was pointed out today by Mrs. Annalou Sowers, clerk.

Some have the impression, Mrs. Sowers stated, that the office is open only on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Double Funeral for Father, Son at Benton

Walter Collins, 66, died at his home east of Benton on Route 14 early Sunday morning.

His son, Paul Collins, 49, resident of Wood River, was driving toward Benton Sunday when he was involved in an automobile accident. Monday morning he died in the Moore hospital in Benton.

A double funeral was held today at the Drake funeral home in Benton. Both will be buried at the Oakwood cemetery at Mt. Vernon.

John Hayes Funeral Wednesday 2 p. m.

The funeral of John Hayes, Harrisburg resident who died in a St. Louis hospital from injuries received in an auto accident last Thursday, will be Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Harrisburg funeral home.

Rev. Glen Daugherty will officiate, and burial will be in the Sunset Lawn cemetery.

Reveal Soviet Diplomat Tells Of Big Spy Ring

Believed Held in Safekeeping In The Far East

TOKYO (AP)—A Soviet career diplomat is giving American intelligence agents detailed information on a big Russian spy ring operating in the Far East, an authoritative source said today.

Yuri Rastvorov, who had been second secretary of the unrecognized Soviet mission in Japan until he asked the United States for asylum Jan. 24, said he was making his disclosures voluntarily.

The highly-qualified informant refused to discuss the full circumstances of Rastvorov's fantastic flight from Communism until an official announcement is made.

But he did reveal that Rastvorov was motivated by fear in deciding to forsake his wife and family in the Soviet Union, to whom he had been scheduled to return on Jan. 25, a day after his surrender.

In Safekeeping

Diplomatic sources in Washington also refused to give details of the Rastvorov incident other than to confirm unofficially that the Russian "is in our hands."

The sources in Tokyo said that to the best of his knowledge Rastvorov was in safekeeping in the Far East. It was believed he had been taken to the U. S. island stronghold of Okinawa.

It was learned that only highest diplomatic and military officials had been informed of Rastvorov's flight shortly after he delivered himself to American authorities.

The U. S. Far East command and the American Embassy told newsmen Monday and early today they knew nothing about the case but, when confronted with the facts later, one American official said the false denials had been issued deliberately "because it was in the American interest to do so."

Businessmen's Ass'n Votes Dollar Days Here Feb. 25-26-27

The Harrisburg Businessmen's association, in session last night, voted to stage a gigantic, city-wide Dollar Days event on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Feb. 25, 26, and 27.

Claude Winkelman, president of the group, was in charge of the meeting, which drew discussion and comment from the various merchants attending. All were in favor of the Dollar Days event and subsequent promotional activities.

"This can be an excellent three-day bargain event for value-minded shoppers throughout southeastern Illinois," Winkelman pointed out. "It's success can be assured," he emphasized, "by the participation of every last Harrisburg merchant."

The group laid plans for the promotion of the gala affair, and individuals were appointed particular tasks in lining up the mechanics of the event.

Secretary Charles Rauh reported on the membership status of the organization and expressed the hope that all Harrisburg merchants would join the association, to better facilitate its efforts in promoting Harrisburg.

"A great deal can be accomplished by the Businessmen's association," Rauh urged, "if merchants of the community will combine their talents and ingenuity toward a progressive and better Harrisburg."

Those attending were in accord that the February Dollar Days should be just a beginning in a series of promotional efforts to make all southeastern Illinois shoppers Harrisburg-conscious and as leader in the offering of values.

Worker Hit by 34,500 Volts of Electricity Saved

ALTON, Ill. (AP)—Artificial respiration by fellow crewmen was credited today with saving the life of Carrol Baldwin, 46, Godfrey, Ill., after 34,500 volts of electricity passed through his body.

Baldwin stopped breathing, witnesses said, when a short-circuit knocked him off a steel structure at Union Electric Co.'s sub-station here.

Four fellow crewmen tore off Baldwin's burning clothes and applied artificial respiration until he began breathing again.

They were foreman Carl Craig, 52, also of Godfrey; Herbert Allen, 52, and William Theissen, both of Alton, and Emmett St. Peters, 46, of East Alton.

St. Peters won the National Safety Council's President's Medal in 1952 after he saved an electrical workman in a similar manner here on Sept. 27, 1951.

ROOSEVELT MARRIAGE WOES—James Roosevelt, looking downcast, attended a Democratic dinner at Los Angeles, right, shortly after his wife's suit for separate maintenance named twelve "other women." In Honolulu, Mrs. Richard C. Durant, left, whose name was mentioned in the Roosevelt court action, demanded a retraction of "this fantastic report." Mrs. Durant is the wife of a prominent physician and mother of five children. Roosevelt is believed ready to give up his candidacy for Democratic nomination for Congress from California following publication of the court details. NEA Telephoto.

Roosevelt Charges Wife with 'Blackmail' In Use of 'Naughty Nine' Letter

LOS ANGELES (UP)—An attorney for Mrs. Romelle Roosevelt said today he has only "scratched the surface" in charges of alleged marital infidelities filed against James Roosevelt by his estranged wife.

Arthur Schiffman said he is prepared to file new charges if Roosevelt contests a suit for separate maintenance, which charged him with committing adultery with three women and which named nine others in a letter he signed in 1945.

Roosevelt denied the accusations charging "infidelities were 'imaginary' and the letter had been used by his wife for 'blackmail'."

His attorney, said Roosevelt, eldest son of the late President, may sue his wife for divorce rather than separation because she made public the letter.

At a press conference Monday Roosevelt said the infidelities with the women were "imaginary" and the letter had been used by his wife for "blackmail."

Attorney Samuel Picone said he will confer with Roosevelt Wednesday to consider amending his separate maintenance suit to include divorce.

Lawyer Arthur Schiffman said Mrs. Roosevelt would not comment on Roosevelt's "blackmail" charge until "we have had a chance to discuss it."

Roosevelt and his wife will face each other for the first time in their legal battle Friday at a temporary alimony hearing in Pasadena Superior Court. At this time Mrs. Roosevelt will ask $3,500 a month for herself and their three children to live on until the main suits—either separate maintenance or divorce—come to trial in six or seven months.

At the request of her attorneys, Roosevelt's Santa Monica separation suit was transferred Monday to Pasadena where her identical action is pending. Both suits now will be tried at the same time.

Says Wife Got Ambitious

Mrs. Roosevelt based her alimony claim on her estimate that the balding, 47-year-old Roosevelt is worth two million dollars. However, at his press conference Roosevelt said he was not only broke but $28,000 in debt.

In the opposing camp, Mrs. Roosevelt huddled with her attorney Monday night to discuss an answer to her husband's statement that "every allegation of misconduct" with the nine women, plus three others she listed in her suit as co-respondents, is "completely false and without foundation."

Roosevelt, seated before television cameras at his press conference, spoke in tones reminiscent of his late father as he told how his wife, a nurse of modest means whom he met at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., got ambitious for wealth after their marriage.

"I did not realize the insatiable demand for material success which my wife possessed," he said.

Lead and Zinc Production Down in Southern Illinois

Lead production in Illinois, produced principally in this state in Hardin county, dropped 22 per cent in 1953 from the record 1952 output, the U. S. Bureau of Mines reported today.

The report also stated that the silver yield in Illinois declined 35 per cent to 2,454 fine ounces during the year and that zinc output fell off 23 per cent to the lowest level since 1948.

The report showed that 5,155 short tons of zinc, valued at $1,123,790, and 1,702 short tons of lead valued at $452,732 were produced in southern Illinois last year.

Principal producer of lead and silver in Illinois in 1953 was the Ozark-Mahoning Co., which operated several fluorspar mines and its all-flotation custom mill at Rosiclare most of the year.

Tri-State Zinc, Inc., Calena, was the leading zinc producer and second largest producer of lead.

Minerva Oil Co., which has its headquarters in Eldorado, was the third largest zinc producer. It operates a fluorspar-zinc mine and mill in Hardin county. A new flotation plant for the production of ceramic grade fluorspar was installed during the year at the company's Crystal mine.

Commenting on the decline in production, the U. S. Bureau of Mines said that labor troubles kept most major producers of lead and zinc in southern Illinois shut down for varying periods during the latter part of the summer.

Coffee Exchange President Hits Any Regulation

Letter from Broker Says Present Prices Are 'Fictitious'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The President of the New York Coffee Exchange said today federal regulation of coffee trading is "an impossibility" and would alienate South American producing countries.

Gustavo Lobo Jr., the exchange president, appeared before the Senate Agriculture committee to oppose a bill proposing to put coffee under market supervision along with wheat, oats, eggs, butter, and other commodities.

Sen. Guy M. Gillette (D-Iowa), author of the bill, sent the committee a letter quoting a New York coffee broker as saying present high prices are "ridiculous and fictitious."

Lobo said the exchange is only a "meeting place for buyer and seller." As a thermometer does not control the temperature, no more does the exchange control prices.

The real reason for high prices, Lobo said, "is the law of supply and demand—which has not yet been repealed."

FTC Studies Prices

The New York coffee broker quoted by Gillette said Brazilians not only control the supply but appear to have moved into the New York Exchange to take control of the domestic marketing.

Gillette did not identify the broker, but he told the Senate Agriculture committee the man wrote him last July that $1 per pound or higher prices apparently were coming.

The Senator submitted a portion of the broker's letter in his own writing statement to the Senate Agriculture committee, which was meeting today to consider Gillette's bill to put the New York coffee and sugar exchange under federal regulation.

The Federal Trade Commission already is investigating the exchange in a White House-backed study of skyrocketing coffee prices. A Senate banking subcommittee, set up last week, will begin a parallel inquiry next week.

Chuck Hunsinger Tells Rotarians Of Pro-Football

Chuck Hunsinger, Harrisburg's outstanding gridiron athlete, spoke to the Rotary club last night at the regular dinner-meeting of the organization, giving the group an insight into the pro-football world.

Hunsinger briefly traced his activities since first being contacted by professional football promoters during his college days. He said he found college football easier, as the competition was not as great. In pro football, Hunsinger added, every man is a polished performer, and it is difficult to find a weakness in the opposing team.

Speaking of the differences in the game as played in Canada, he mentioned that the Canadians use a 12-man team, the extra man being in the backfield. This fifth backfield man is known as the "flying wing." The playing field is 110 yards long instead of 100, and 20 yards wider than our fields. A touchdown counts five points, the extra point is one.

Professional football is definitely a business, Hunsinger pointed out, and there is lots of competition between the teams and in the same club. Attendance at the games in Canada is very good, hitting 20,000 often.

One drawback to pro football, Hunsinger related, was the difficulty in settling down when returning home for the six or seven month "off-season."

Hunsinger, formerly with the Chicago Bears, played with the Montreal Alouettes this past season, and will return there next summer for the '54 season. He was introduced to the club by Henry Winkelman.

Guests of the club were junior high and high school honor students. They were: Kay Mitchell, seventh grade; Marcia Pierson and Kendall McDonald, eighth grade; Janice Gidcomb, freshman; Norma McDonald, sophomore; Doris Steinmarch, junior; and Fredi Christman, senior.

During the business session, club members were informed that the bid on the pony, auctioned on the telephone March of Dimes show, was not being taken up. The club then voted to sell the pony to the Starlight Drive-In theatre which offered $100 for the animal. This amount, plus $50, donated toward the purchase by Dairy Brand, will be turned over to the polio drive, in lieu of the bid.

Dispute Over Bricker Bill Shifts From Treaties To Presidential Agreements

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UP)—Dispute over the Bricker Amendment shifted today from the treaty making power to a type of international accord known as an executive or presidential agreement.

Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga.), a notable champion of state's rights, blocked a likely compromise agreement which would have eliminated reference to such agreements from the amendment.

The elimination of the reference would have sought to amend the Constitution to prevent any executive agreements from becoming internal law without a special act of Congress.

George said he would not support the Bricker Amendment unless it contained the agreements section for two reasons:

1. The section would assure that Congress would know what was contained in all executive agreements.

2. Congress would have the right under that section to prevent any encroachment on state's right which might flow from an executive agreement.

The difference between an executive agreement and a treaty are these:

1. There is no specific constitutional provision for executive agreements. Presidents long ago simply began making them and were not challenged.

2. They are not submitted to the Senate for the "advice and consent" which treaties must have to become effective. They sometimes are authorized by congressional action or become effective by such action. But some never reach Congress in any form.

3. They could contain clauses secret from the Senate or, even opposed by the Senate, if a president were so minded.

In other respects, executive agreements are like treaties and it has been suggested that presidents sometimes made executive agreements instead of negotiating treaties simply to avoid putting the issues involved before the Senate—to deprive the Senate of a chance to say "no."

It has been held that a treaty becomes the supreme law of the land upon Senate approval. Some persons have argued that executive agreements and treaties are wholly interchangeable instruments of foreign policy. If so, a president might make an executive agreement on his own which would outrank the United States to require its courts, state and federal, to comply with agreement terms, regardless of the constitutions of states or nation. So runs the argument.

State to Move Mining Laboratory To West Frankfort

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—State Mines Director Ben H. Schull today announced the Mines Department's analytical laboratory is being moved from Springfield to West Frankfort.

The laboratory, destroyed by fire at Capitol Airport near here Dec. 1, has since been temporarily housed at the Springfield Mine Rescue Station.

The laboratory is used for testing air and rock dust samples from underground mines sent in by state mine inspectors.

Schull said more than one-half of the samples come from southern Illinois mines and locating the laboratory in that area will speed up the process of obtaining analysis.

Congo Pump Shut Down After Adding To City Water Supply

The Congo pump went down yesterday until more rains come and Amos Doorn, water department superintendent, estimated today that rains of a week ago brought a supply of between two and three weeks.

Doorn said that the Congo, which ran about three straight days at the outset, then was used sporadically as water accumulated, pulled eight and a half million gallons of water into the reservoir. Two of the CIPS pumps were used also for about 14 hours.

The Congo pumped for an hour and 15 minutes Sunday, then pumped for 25 minutes yesterday before it was shut down to await more rains.

'End Foolish Chatter', Soviet Minister Told

Taunts Molotov With Being Wrong On Hitler Aims

BERLIN (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles rejected Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov's new German peace plan today and called on him to end his "foolish chatter" about Western plans to remilitarize the country.

In a biting speech at the eighth session of the Big Four foreign ministers' conference, Dulles taunted Molotov with having "praised Hitlerite Germany as being a peace-loving country" at the outset of World War II, and asked if he could be wrong again.

He ripped to pieces the pretense that Red-ruled East Germany has a representative government. He asked why nearly one million East Germans had fled to the West.

Dulles charged Russia with trying to impoverish the West by forcing the free nations to arm individually instead of grouping together for defense against Red aggression.

"It is understandable that the Soviet Union should want to force on the free nations a system which will drag down their higher standard of living," Dulles said.

Demanding that Molotov get down to business and negotiate on a German peace treaty, Dulles said:

"We urge that Mr. Molotov agree to create quickly by all-German elections a German government that can genuinely speak for all of Germany and thus provide the indispensable basis for a peace that will last, because it will be a peace of consent."

Dulles was replying for the West to the "Molotov cocktail" which Molotov explained Monday in the form of a new German peace plan.

Nothing New in Charges

The so-called Molotov plan was based on ideas completely unacceptable to the United States, Great Britain and France.

Dulles charged that, in his plan, Molotov "sought to divert us from the serious discussion of this urgent German topic by injecting a series of charges against the United States, Great Britain and France, which he claimed are trying to form a military bloc directed against the Soviet Union."

"I will not take time at this conference to reject these charges in detail," Dulles said. "There is nothing new in them. They have been refuted time after time, year after year."

As for Molotov's allegation that the United States seeks to recreate German militarism, Dulles said:

"In the light of history the United States feels that it has earned the right to shrug off, as foolish chatter, the accusation that it now seeks to recreate the very force that has twice so cruelly hurt it."

"Let this conference now get back to the problem of Germany and of how to welcome and nurture the desire of the new Germany to find for her energies a new outlet which, better than unbridled nationalism, will solve the needs of Germany, of Europe, and indeed of all the world."

Reminding Molotov that his judgment has not always been infallible, Dulles said:

"Mr. Molotov was wrong in October, 1939, when he condemned France and Britain as being aggressors and praised Hitlerite Germany as being a peace-seeking country."

It might be, Dulles suggested, that Molotov is wrong again about the motives of the Western world.

The Molotov plan, Dulles said, would require the Western powers to accept the Red East German government "as one of the principal organs whereby the German problem is to be solved."

CENTRALIA, Ill. (UP)—William A. Spieth, a Centralia photographer, has been named governor of district 216, Rotary International, covering southern Illinois.

Finance Commissioner Warns City Spending Is Exceeding Income

Dr. G. R. Johnson, finance commissioner, warned that city expenditures are exceeding income at this morning's brief meeting of the city council.

Dr. Johnson urged commissioners to cut all corners possible in keeping down expenses.

He said that the city will have approximately $30,000 for the next four months with the spending averaging more than $9,000 a month at present.

Sgt. Robert E. Carpenter

Mrs. Anna L. Swan, 312 West South street, received word yesterday from the Department of Army that her brother, Sgt. Robert E. Carpenter, who has been missing in action in Korea since July 25, 1950, was reported dead.

Sgt. Carpenter, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter Carpenter, was 21 when he was reported as missing.

Besides Mrs. Swan he is survived by a brother, Tommy Carpenter of Harrisburg, and a sister, Mrs. Genevieve Bade of Long Beach, Calif. He is also survived by one grandparent, Dan Carpenter, of Route 4, Harrisburg.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Senator Wiley Gets Bricker
Button-Holed; Joe Martin
Gets Caught Between Treasury
Wrath And Uncle Dan Reed's Cantankerousness; Harold Russell And Ike Talk About Cooperation.

WASHINGTON. — The "Vigilant
Women For The Bricker Amendment" have been swarming over Capitol Hill corridors, buttonholing congressmen, beleaguering senators, and planting "news" bulletins in automobiles.

One of them accosted Wisconsin's Senator Alexander Wiley, chairman of the Foreign Relations committee, who — though she did not seem to know it — has been leading the fight against the Bricker amendment.

"I'm sorry, madam," interrupted the kindly senator after the "vigilante" had extolled the virtues of Brickerism. "But I can't change my mind on this subject.
I've made my position clear and I'm going to stick to it."

"I just wish you were my husband for a few days," scolded the lady, shaking her finger. "I'd soon change your mind!"

"Madam," replied the senator-diplomat, "if that situation should ever develop, I'd show you that I'm a real caveman at heart."

VANISHING BILLION??
Treasury Department chiefs are hopping mad at the man who's piloting the Eisenhower program through the House of Representatives — amiable, hard-working Speaker Joe Mc Carthy.

Joe came out with a compromise plan for dropping excise taxes which will lose the Treasury a cool one billion dollars and both Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and assistant Secretary Randolph Burgess are most unhappy.

Furthermore, they have communicated their views vigorously to the President, who is having a session with Speaker Martin.

The issue involved is much more important than any clash between important personalities. It illustrates how closely the present government deficit has been figured, and how carefully the Treasury will have to tax in order not to go deeper in the red.

What happened was that Uncle Dan Reed, 78-year-old ruler of the House Ways and Means committee, proposes ending excise taxes.
Excise taxes which now bring in three and a half billion dollars a year are due to expire in April and Reed would not renew them.

However, the Treasury feels that this money is desperately needed in order not to throw the budget further out of balance. So Secretary Humphrey proposes continuing these taxes after April.

Hoping to keep peace between the Treasury and the man who dictates over the tax-writing committee on Capitol Hill and who, incidentally, is not the easiest man to get along with, Speaker Martin proposed a compromise. He suggested splitting the difference and dropping a billion dollars worth of excise taxes.

Even this drop of one billion, however, gave Humphrey and Burgess a jolt. With income taxes reduced, they are scratching around for every penny and every billion they can lay hands on.
That's why they're taking the issue to the White House.

LADY IN AN ELEVATOR
Secretary of Welfare Oveta Culp Hobby, the only lady cabinet officer, dropped over to the Senate the other day and stepped into the private elevator, marked for "senators only" but also used as cabinet members, congressmen, and other dignitaries.

The elevator operator refused to budge.

"I'm sorry," he said. "This elevator is for senators only."

"I'm Mrs. Hobby," icily announced the secretary of health, welfare, and education.

The elevator jockey studiously examined the list of senators, tacked on the elevator wall.

"There's no Mrs. Hobby on here," he shrugged.

"I'm a member of the cabinet," snapped Mrs. Hobby impatiently.

The operator reflected for a moment, then whisked the lady cabinet officer up to her destination.

HOW TO HEAL WOUNDS
Harold Russell, the armless war vet who played the part of Sailor
"Homer Parrish" in the movie
"The Best Years of Our Lives," was telling President Eisenhower the other day about some of his problems as rehabilitation director of the World Veterans Federation.

"We embrace all nations not dominated by Moscow and you can well imagine the diplomacy that must be employed at our conventions when you consider that we have war vet delegates from such unfriendly nations as Israel and Egypt, West Germany and France, and Italy and Yugoslavia," said Russell.

"Very interesting," commented Ike. "I suppose the competing groups sit on opposite sides."

"Oh, no, on the contrary, we try to seat them together, but first we try to arrange luncheons where delegations from antagonistic nations can air their views on a subject of mutual interest," Russell explained.

"At one of our meetings we arranged a luncheon between Egyptian and Israeli delegates, at which the mutual problem of rehabilitation was discussed."

"It proved highly successful, because both delegations naturally were interested in improving the economic stability of their homelands. In a situation like that, it always helps to get opposing factions talking about a noncontroversial subject of mutual interest."

The President remarked that he had once used some what the same technique at a meeting while he was president of Columbia University.

"There was a great deal of tension and controversy at this meeting until I introduced a completely neutral subject. I got the conferees talking about babies. This was something everyone was interested in and liked to talk about. With the conferees thus relaxed and in a friendly mood, we moved on to the important agenda of the meeting."

MARITIME PROBE
Two weeks ago this column told how the Maritime Board was about to throw away $7,000,000 by junking one of the largest, fastest cargo vessels afloat.

The ship, the Cornhusker Mariner, cost the taxpayers $9,500,000 and was only six months old when it went aground off the Korean coast. Though the ship could be repaired in Japan for two and a half million, Washington bureaucrats, this column revealed, decided to turn the ship into scrap.

Following publication of the story, two separate congressional investigations have started. Both the House Maritime committee and the Senate Interstate and Foreign Commerce committee want to know exactly what's behind the strange Commerce Department decision to scrap a vessel now valued at $7,000,000.

McCarthy Asks Army to Court Martial Major

WASHINGTON (EP) — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy today called on the Army to court martial an unidentified major whom he accused of Communist activities.

The Wisconsin Republican also suggested the Army mete out the same punishment to every officer who helped promote or failed to "expose" the major and to find out who kept him from going overseas.

McCarthy outlined his "suggestions" in a three-page letter to Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens.
Stevens is in the Far East and his office had no immediate comment.
The senator's aides said the major was stationed at Camp Kilmer, N. J. McCarthy questioned an Army dental officer in a closed session of his Senate Permanent Investigating Subcommittee in New York Saturday and ordered him to return Feb. 18.

Refused to Answer Questions
McCarthy's letter said there were "convincing indications" the officer had been recruiting soldiers into the Communist Party. He said the major refused under oath to answer all questions about Communist Party activities.

McCarthy said the Army gave the officer a questionnaire last August but that he refused to answer questions about "his alleged Communist activities" on grounds it might tend to incriminate him.
A few months later, McCarthy said, he was promoted to major.

The letter said the major was asked to resign after the subcommittee began its investigation. The officer indicated he would do so sometime before March 31, Mc-Carthy declared.

The letter said the major had been ordered to duty earlier in Yokohama, Japan, but was assigned at his request to Camp Kilmer on grounds his wife and child were visiting a psychiatrist.

Two Killed When Trucker Drives Through Work Crew

MACOMB, Ill. (EP) — A truck whose driver failed to see a flagman Monday ran through a highway work crew, killing two men and injuring a third.

Wayne Logan, Tennessee, Ill., and Clarence Bexsen, Colchester, Ill., were killed on U. S. 136 four miles west of here. Herbert Wayland, Colchester, was injured.

Robert Belshaw, Macomb, the truck driver, said he fell asleep and didn't see the flagman in time to stop.

Nash Motors Cuts Car Prices

DETROIT (EP) — Nash Motors cut car prices $20 to $60 today on its Rambler and Statesman lines.
"The reductions are being made in anticipation of lower manufacturing costs which should result from increased volume," said H. C.
Doss, vice president in charge of sales.

With the cuts, the lowest priced
Nash — a Rambler two-door club sedan — now sells for $1,500 at the factory.

The retail price on the Rambler actually was reduced $210, but radios and heaters which previously were standard equipment were taken out and made optional. The cost of the two units is approximately $150.

No reduction was made on Nash's top line, the Ambassador.
Prices on this line were cut $98 to $160 last November.

Nash cut its work week to four days last week to keep production in line with retail sales. Studebaker recently did the same. Hudson is not working this week and Packard was shut down last week.
Kaiser and Willys are in token production on just-announced 1954 cars.

Among the "big three," General Motors and Ford are continuing strong production while Chrysler is working at reduced rates.

The Nash cuts are not expected to have any immediate effect on industry-wide pricing. The signal for mark-downs usually comes from one of the "big three" which last year produced about 90 per cent of all American cars.

The funeral will be Wednesday at 2 p. m. Rev. Glen Berge will conduct the service, and burial will be in the Zion cemetery east of Ozark.

THE MOVE TO MODERN LIVING

See why the trend is growing to the 1954 Lincoln

The facts are simple: Lincoln is the one fine car whose sales have more than doubled in two short years.

There are good reasons why this trend keeps growing. The great new Lincoln for 1954 is the most dramatic edition of the car that started the big change in American motorists' ideas about fine cars.

Take, for instance, Lincoln's new styling—from the stunning new grille to the crisp, new rear deck and distinctive new taillights.
It is a completely new design—akin to the ground-hugging, functional look found wherever the living is modern. Note, too, how well

Lincoln's new colors and fabrics go with Lincoln's new styling; dramatic new shades in nylons, gabardines, and leathers.

Above all you have incredible performance. Lincoln's world-famous V-8 engine has the new automatic 4-barrel carburetor—gives you superbly controlled action at all times. Add to all this the optional features—power steering, power brakes, the 4-way power seat and electric power window lifts—and driving becomes practically effortless. You'll know what we mean the moment you drive a wonderful new 1954 Lincoln or Lincoln Capri.

Performance proof: Lincoln again won 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th places over all stock cars in the 1,912-mile Mexican Pan-American Road Race.

The Kupples Klass of the First Methodist church held a covered-dish dinner Monday evening at Wesley Center.

Besides the delicious meal, for which Miss Bernice Patterson, teacher of the class, returned thanks, a scavenger purse hunt was ordered by Mrs. Ethel Stain, recreation chairman. Many valuable things were discovered, among which were two checks formerly mislaid, old gold and an old large size dollar bill.

A true or false game was also played which proved to be educational. It was learned that George Washington was born on the 11th of Feb. instead of Feb. 22.

Of husband and father, Jessie Albert Hagan, who was born Dec. 1, 1933.

I have lost my life's companion, A life linked with my own. And every day I miss him more As I walk through life alone. The call was short, the shock severe. To part with one I love so dear. I never knew that hearts could ache With such a bitter pain. Longing for a vanished face, To hear his voice again. If all the world was mine to give, I would give it all and more. To see the face I love so dear. Come smiling through my door. Sadly missed by his wife and boys. *182-1

Ex-Queen Narriman Is Awarded Final Divorce from Farouk

CAIRO, Egypt (U-P)—Former Queen Narriman was awarded a final divorce decree from ex-King Farouk today.

Under terms of an agreement which she signed Monday, Narriman yielded custody of her 2-year-old son Fuad Ahmed to Farouk and gave up her demands for $14,000 monthly alimony.

She retains the right to visit her son as often as she wishes, and still hopes to receive funds from the vast estate which the government sized from Farouk. But officials said there would be little left after debts are paid.

Judge Sheikh Ahmed Mourad of the Sharia Court approved the agreement and gave Narriman her freedom.

However, the 19-year-old beauty who lost her throne, her husband and her child said she was not ready for another romance.

Continue Cross Examination of CIPS Witnesses

SPRINGFIELD (U-P)—Objectors to Central Illinois Public Service Co.'s proposed $4,260,000 annual rate increase today tried to punch holes in the firm's case by cross-examination of company witnesses.

The company has asked for the electric service increase, totaling 12.3 per cent, on grounds its costs have increased and it needs higher rates to attract investment for expansion.

At today's Illinois Commerce Commission hearing, former ICC Examiner Harold Madsen, now working for objectors in the CIPS case, and Quincy Corporation Counsel Thomas Keefe cross-examined CIPS witnesses on their earlier testimony.

CIPS President M. S. Luthringer said the company will increase its power output every year for the next three years, and will build a new 125,000 kilowatt generator by 1957.

He said the Hutsonville unit now under construction will be finished by spring and the company will build the next unit in the Grand Tower area.

Fuel Costs Decline
Luthringer said the cost of fuel increased from 1947 to 1948 but has steadily declined since then.

Marvin Chandler, CIPS' investment broker, agreed that he had testified that "the period of low interest rates of the past 12 or 15 years has ended."

But he said under cross-examination the rates the company had to pay for investment capital had dropped in the past four months.

Raleigh, New Haven and Muddy Win District Tournament Opening Games

Raleigh, New Haven and Muddy won first round games in the District Junior high basketball tournament which opened last night in the Equality grade school gymnasium. Raleigh defeated Omaha, 51-25. New Haven eliminated Galatia, 44-41, and Muddy beat Old Shawneetown, 48-25.

Two games are slated for tonight in quarter final play with Raleigh meeting Dorrisville at 6:15 and New Haven clashing with Ridgway at 7:30. Dorrisville and Ridgway held byes in the first round.

Wednesday night Muddy takes on Equality in the 6:15 encounter, and Mill Shoals meets New Shawneetown in the aftermath. Tuesday and Wednesday night winners will play again on Thursday evening.

Barger, L. Prather and York led Raleigh to its one-sided victory over Omaha. The trio accounted for 34 of Raleigh's 51-point total.

New Haven and Galatia staged the best tussle of the evening, with the Gallatin county cagers nosing out the young Bearcats. Jones led the New Haven cause with 21 tallies.

Muddy's Hasset tossed in 23 points for the evening's scoring honors, as he sparked the Saline county five to victory over Old Shawneetown. Hasset's total was just two shy of the entire Shawneetown team.

Spartans Trip Northwestern In Big Ten Tilt

CHICAGO — Only one conference game was played in the Big Ten Monday night and in that contest Michigan State got off to an early lead and held on for a 65-62 win over Northwestern.

The victory shoved the Spartans up to sixth place in the standings with a mark of three wins and four losses. Northwestern stayed in ninth place with one win and six loss.

Sophomore forward Julius McCoy led Michigan State with 19 points but was shaded in the point department by Northwestern's Frank Ehmman who tallied 23.

In a non-conference game, the nation's second ranked team, Indiana, showed that a two week lay-off hadn't dimmed their shooting eyes as they walloped Louisville 80-71 with All American Don Schlundt scoring 29 points.

The games were the last for the Big Ten until Saturday when all but Illinois engage in games with four conference tilts on the docket.

10 Less Night Games Scheduled In American L.

CHICAGO — There will be fewer night games in the American League this season.

The 1954 schedule, released today, listed 215 night games, 10 less than were scheduled for 1953. Most of the decrease resulted from the shift of the St. Louis Browns franchise to Baltimore, although two other clubs, Washington and Chicago, also decreased the number of after-dark contests.

As usual, however, the Senators scheduled the most night games, 44. They also will start their night game program earlier than the other teams, scheduling one against the Athletics on April 19 — six days after the season opens. The Senators scheduled 50 night games last season.

Baltimore will have 33 night games, six less than the Browns played in St. Louis last season. The Athletics scheduled 37 night games, the same as last year, while the Indians will have 30, one less than last year, and the White Sox 21, against 23 in 1953.

The Yankees will play 16 night games, two more than they ever have scheduled in any previous season, while the Red Sox and Tigers held the line with 14 night games each.

As in the past, each club gets 12 Saturday and 12 Sunday dates during the season.

Kentucky, Indiana, Duquesne Top College Teams

NEW YORK — Duquesne, undefeated in its first 17 games, moved up to a challenging position behind Kentucky and Indiana today in the United Press college basketball ratings, with only 13 points separating the top three teams.

Kentucky, with a winning streak of 13 games, had 309 points; Indiana, idle for the past two weeks with a 12-1 record, had 302 points, and Duquesne had 296 in this week's ratings of the United Press Board of Coaches. The "Big Three" thus retained their rankings in order for the sixth week in a row.

Chiefly because of the mid-season examination lull, the top 10 teams were the same as last week, with Holy Cross making the only important advance as it jumped from 10th to eighth place. The 35-man coaching board based its ratings on games played through Saturday night, Jan. 30.

Oklahoma A & M Fourth

Following Duquesne in this week's ratings were Oklahoma A and M, with a 17-1 record, and Western Kentucky, winner in 19 straight games for the nation's longest major college unbeaten string. The Hilltoppers Monday accepted a bid to the National Invitation Tournament in New York next month.

Minnesota (12-2), California (16-1), Holy Cross (14-1), Notre Dame (10-2) and Kansas (8-3) rounded out the top 10 teams.

Louisiana State headed the second 10 group, trailed by La Salle and Duke. North Carolina State and Iowa were tied for 14th, with Wyoming and Bradley next in order. Wichita was tied with Louisville and Illinois for 18th place.

In all, 16 other teams received votes this week. They were Navy, Seattle, Georgetown (D. C.) Texas, George Washington, Santa Clara, Maryland, UCLA, Dayton, Wake Forest, Brigham Young, St. Louis, Niagara, Rice, Texas Tech and Connecticut.

Braves See Thomson As Answer to Pennant; Giants Elated By Antonelli, Liddle

NEW YORK — Bobby Thomson was called the answer to Milwaukee's pennant prayers today, while Braves' officials shrugged off any suggestion that the Giants may have out-slicked them for the second time in four years by acquiring pitchers Johnny Antonelli and Don Liddle.

The entire Milwaukee front office took on a World Series atmosphere when the deal was finally consummated late Monday.

"We can really make plans for a pennant now," declared Donald Davidson, the Braves' public relations director. "Thomson beat the Dodgers for the pennant once and he may be able to do it again."

While the Braves were celebrating the arrival of the 30-year-old Thomson, whose dramatic homer against the Dodgers in the 1951 playoff won the pennant for the Giants, the Giants, themselves, were elated over the sorely-needed help to their pitching staff.

Giants Needed Pitching

It marked the Giants' biggest deal since 1950 when they turned over Sid Gordon, Willard Marshall, Buddy Korr and Sam Webb to the Braves for shortstop Al Dark and Stanky were instrumental in New York's pennant push of 1951 and the general consensus was that the Braves were out-manuevered in that deal.

"We simply had to have pitching help," said Giant owner Horace Stoneham while expressing deep regret over Thomson's departure from New York.

In the 23-year old Antonelli, who received a $75,000 bonus for signing with the Braves in 1948, Stoneham said the Giants obtained "one of the best young pitchers in the National league."

Although Antonelli, a slender fast-baller, won only 12 games and lost the same number last season upon his return from the Army, his earned run average of 3.19 was fifth best in the circuit. He struck

Menke Quits As Galesburg Coach

GALESBURG, Ill. — Ken Menke, one of the University of Illinois' famed 1942-43 "Whiz Kids," today announced his resignation as Galesburg High School basketball coach, effective next June.

Menke said he was resigning due to his "unhappiness" with the basketball program at Galesburg during his three-year tenure as coach. His team this season had won only three games while losing 11.

Menke, a forward on the Whiz Kids team, had previously coached three years at Galesburg's Corpus Christi High School.

He said his future plans are indefinite.

NEW N. D. COACH—Terry Brennan, 25, assistant coach at Notre Dame, has been named to fill head coach post left open by the resignation of Frank Leahy, 45, who resigned "on advice of his doctors." A star player at Notre Dame, Brennan coached high school football in Chicago for three years before going to the assistant post at Notre Dame.

Spring Baseball Training Will Begin Soon

Spring training, once a neglected, underrated and ill-conceived part of the major league baseball enterprise, but now highly specialized, expensive and vital feature, is not too far off, reports The Sporting News.

The Yankees invited nine of their players to join Casey Stengel's preliminary camp as early as Feb. 2. Most of the 16 big league teams will be in action around Feb. 22.

The list of camps shows three changes. The White Sox have moved out of Pasadena and El Centro, Calif., to set up a second menage in Tampa, which for years has been the base of the Cincinnati club, which will continue to hold forth in Plant Field. The city of Tampa has built a new plant to accommodate the Sox.

The Pirates, who last year trained in Cuba, have moved into Florida, at Fort Pierce, which hitherto housed only minor league clubs.

The new Orioles, from Baltimore, will work out in Yuma, Ariz. The Browns arranged a pact with Yuma before the transfer of their franchise to Baltimore. The new management sought a shift to Fort Lauderdale, Fla., but found itself committed to a contract with the Arizona locale, points out The Sporting News. Last year the Browns trained in Burbank, Calif.

Training bases of other major league clubs: Red Sox, Sarasota, Fla.; Senators, Orlando, Fla.; Yankees, St. Petersburg, Fla.; Tigers, Lakeland, Fla.; Indians, Tucson, Ariz.; Athletics, West Palm Beach, Fla.; Braves, Bradenton, Fla.; Cardinals, St. Petersburg, Fla.; Reds, Tampa, Fla.; Cubs, Mesa, Ariz.; Phillies, Clearwater, Fla.; Giants, Phoenix, Ariz., and Dodgers, Vero Beach, Fla.

Bull Dogs to Play Fairfield in Mt. Vernon Regional; Eldorado Will Meet Ridgway Dist. Winner

Carrier Mills Will Face Zeigler In Benton Regional

Harrisburg will meet Fairfield and Eldorado will play the Ridgway district winner in the Mt. Vernon regional and Carrier Mills will face Zeigler in the first round of the regional at Benton, pairings announced today revealed.

Galatia, the other Saline county team, drew a first round bye in the Ridgway district tourney and will face the Shawneetown-Equality winner in the second round.

The winner of the Ridgway district will be Eldorado's opponent in the first round at Mt. Vernon.

This year's assignments dropped the pattern of recent years. Harrisburg, Eldorado and Carrier Mills in the past have been going to the same tournament. Galatia has been starting in regional play instead of having to go through the district, and the county teams are having to make a longer trek

Fowler didn't break into the scoring column to any great degree, but played a fine defensive floor game.

Big Joe's 21 points kept the Bearcats in the thick of the contest with their arch rivals from Carrier Mills.

The first six men on the Bearcat squad ran up a big lead against Harrisburg that insured a victory, and set a scoring record.

Harrison and Gidcumb were the only two Bull Dogs who could score consistently against the Eagles' zone defense.

Riegel and Anglin turned in excellent scoring efforts with 23 and 19 points respectively against Galatia's record-breaking total.

THE STORY: Mistaken for Luke Usher, who ran away when his father Jake was murdered, Grete Marratt, an escaped convict, has been befriended by Dr. Frailey, one of Jake's friends. Marratt is suffering from a bullet wound, inflicted by an unseen gunman. Knowing he is being hunted, Marratt decides to hide under the mistaken identity. But soon after Frailey leaves, there is a knock on the door.

Marratt had been halfway expecting to see the face of that crook or the short and broad shape of the one who had tried to cut him down the other night. This bird was a stranger. He was garbed in a blue-and-white striped shirt, open at the throat, and the bottoms of his corduroy trousers were thrust into fancy-topped boots—which don't grow on bushes. A black curly-brimmed hat was shoved back off the forehead of a long narrow face that, from the nose on down, was sheathed in black beard.

Court to Act On FCC Rules on TV, Radio Give-Away

WASHINGTON (AP)—Are radio and TV give-away shows with their shower of cash and prizes educational, entertaining or just plain gambling? In effect, that is what the Supreme Court is trying to decide. At issue are proposed rules of the Federal Communications Commission to outlaw as a lottery any program based mainly on chance and to deny licenses to stations which broadcast them.

The nine justices heard two hours of oral arguments Monday in which attorneys for the FCC and the three major networks hotly debated the virtues and vices of both the give-aways and the FCC proposals.

J. Roger Wollenberg, assistant FCC general counsel, called give-aways "mass appeal come games" dreamed up by advertising agencies to lure bigger audiences for stations and sponsors.

Charges "Personal" Judgment He said the proposed ban merely follows the FCC's "mandate from Congress" to keep the airwaves free of "lotteries and similar schemes that are evil."

Paul Williams, National Broadcasting Co. attorney, argued that the commission is "walking in the shadow line of personal judgment" and is trying to "censor" the broadcasting industry by rewriting the laws in a way Congress has refused to do.

Alfred McCormack, representing the American Broadcasting Co., and Max Freund, attorney for the Columbia Broadcasting System, backed him up.

Freund said the Justice Department has failed to "prosecute," and its position is consistent with its "long-standing view that these programs do not violate the lottery law."

Wollenberg said no "prosecution" is contemplated, merely a denial of licenses. Since this is the commission's province, he said, the Justice Department is "neutral."

IOOF Sovereign Grand Master to Visit Illinois Feb. 4 and 5

James R. French, sovereign grand master of the Sovereign Grand lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows of the World, will visit the jurisdiction of Illinois on Thursday, Feb. 4, he will be at the Odd Fellows temple in Centralia, and on Friday, Feb. 5, at the Centennial building in Springfield.

This is an opportunity to hear the sovereign grand master of the world speak on Odd Fellowship. These meetings are open to the public and will start promptly at 7 p. m.

Odd Fellows and Rebekahs are urged to attend and bring friends.

But no beard was going to conceal his pleasure in greeting a friend he hadn't seen in 15 years. He came in like a wriggling colt with hand outstretched and teeth showing splinters of light through the bristles. "How are you, son—" His voice suddenly went into a bleat as he caught sight of the snout of that motionless pistol. "Luke! Put that datted thing away—you ain't forgot Clint Gainer, hev you? Ol' Clint that learned you how to set a buckin' brone—" "Close the door," Marratt said without a change of expression. "Now come around here into the light."

Gainor followed instructions, sidling into the downturned glow from the lamp like a drunk on a chalk line. There was something strangely ineffectual about his big belled shape, a suggestion of timidity he'd probably hoped to hide, behind that bluff heartiness he'd been so busily exuding as he'd stepped over the threshold.

Marratt put up his gun but kept a hand close beside it. "How'd you know I was here?"

"Perkins—he cooks for the Lone Star—says tellin' me he seen you and then, about a hour ago, I run into Doc. Don't you remember Ol' Clint what wrassled steers for your pappy?"

"Vaguely," Marratt decided. "But I can't seem to recollect us ever getting so close for you to come busting over here the minute you learn I'm back in the country. And so spiderfooted quiet—"

Gainor licked his lips while a slow flush spread through his hair-ed over jowls. "I'm goin' to tell you about that—it's all part of the same thing, of the reason for my bein' here. I guess maybe you got some call to be wonderin'. I've had to play my cards mighty close these last years. You don't want to believe more'n half of what you hear."

"All right," Marratt said. "I've got the salt box handy."

Gainor stared. He said defensively, "I dunno what you've heard but what I've done's been 'cause I've had to. It ain't been easy to live around here with Wineglass knockin' right ag'in my east fence. Let Clem Ryerson hev his way an' he'll glom onto this whole country from the Sierra Estrellas clean to Pozo Redondo."

"Let's hear about the reason you came hiking over here. And why you didn't ride up like a neighbor."

Gainor's look turned reproachful. "You know mighty well I can't afford to neighbor with Ushers. Now don't get me wrong! I've always kinda nourished a secret likin' for you, boy. I'm one of the few around this patch of cactus that never figured you pulled out account of bein' scared of Wineglass."

"That so?" Marratt allowed himself to unbend a little. "Why did you think I pulled my freight?"

"'Cause you was too smart to go ag'in a stacked deck."

"The line separatin' smartness from cowardice ain't much easier to latch hold of than the hair on a frog. You must have good eyes."

"I got 'em," Gainor nodded, an' I kin put two an' two together. Lots of guys—most of 'em—what heard them cracks you made in the Red Horse Bar that night figured it was the whisky talkin'. I knowed you meant every dad-gummed word of it. I knowed you was aimin' to come back an' I've been buildin' toward that time."

to do my Christian duty an' you a good turn at the same time mebbe."

Marratt watched the sly eyes go from himself to Jake's picture. "Put your cards on the table."

"But it wasn't in Gainor's round-about nature to travel the shortest way if he could avoid it. "How much dough hev you got?" he asked.

"Do I look like a bake shop?" "I mean money—hard cash."

"I couldn't stake you to a hairpin."

"That's what I figured," Gainor nodded. "You haven't even got a horse. Doc said the clothes you were wearin'—"

"Did you come over here to crow over me?"

"Just pointin' out where you stand is all. Matter of fact, I'm here to help you—"

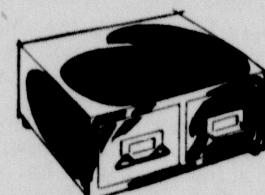

"Do you reckon you'll get around to it before tomorrow morning?" Marratt asked.

Gainor managed a parched smile. "You're in a bad hole, boy, an' I'm fixin' to pull you out. I'll give you $6000 for the title to this ranch."

Begin Testimony In Labor Racket

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—A long line of witnesses, most of them contractors, appeared before a Federal Grand Jury today as an investigation of labor racketeering in the Eastern District of Illinois entered its second day.

The grand jury began hearing testimony Monday after being charged by U. S. District Judge Fred L. Wham to seek out reported violations of the federal anti-racketeering statute.

"You are to indict any persons, corporations or organizations whom you have reasonable cause to believe have been guilty of violating this law," Wham said.

In ordering the opening of the inquiry, preceded by six months of investigation by FBI and Internal Revenue agents, Wham recited ed provisions of the law and recalled that a St. Louis grand jury had found evidence of widespread violations in Missouri.

"These violations were of a flagrant nature and character said to have been very damaging to commerce," he added.
